MRS. HARRY THAW TAKES WITNESS STAND

and Tells Life's Story In His Behalf.

ACES MOST TRYING ORDEAL

Life and Says She Refused to Harry Thaw Because of Incident
in Her Life with White—Swears
White Was Present at Cafe.

New York, Feb. 8.—Evelyn Nesbit Thaw was the first witness in the new case Thursday morning.

Mrs. Thaw declared Stanford White was at the Cafe Martin the night she

MRS. HARRY E. THAW.

Mr. Thaw dined there, and she saw him. Mrs. Thaw said the note
she wrote her husband in the Cafe
Martin related to Stanford White.
This evidence was later stricken out.
Mrs. Thaw gave testimony corroborating that of other witnesses as to details of the shooting. Mrs. Thaw said she refused to marry Thaw in Paris in 1903, because of an incident
in her life connected with Stanford
White. Mrs. Thaw said she met Stanford White at a luncheon in 1901.
She thought him "very big and ugly."

HOWARD NESBIT.
[Evelyn Thaw's brother.]

The party to which she was taken was
"in a dingy Twenty-fourth street house." The luncheon to which she had been invited was in a private apartment sumptuously furnished and fitted up.

"I was told in advance I was going to luncheon with some society people and had hoped it was the Waldorf-Astoria, as I wanted to see that hotel."

Mrs. Thaw testified that White sent her mother to Pittsburgh and then took her to one of his studios, where she dined alone with him.

Mrs. Thaw told of an experience with white in a mirrored bedroom.
She screamed and screamed, but he said:

"It is all over."
She sat up all night after he had gone home.

She broke down and cried,
and he proceeded as she remained.

Thaw sat with his face buried in a handkerchief.

Mrs. Thaw, said Mr. Thaw, when she told him, got down on his knees, picked up the edge of her dress and kissed it.

White made Mrs. Thaw promise she must never tell her mother. He said it was all right—that there was "nothing so nice as young girls, and nothing so loathsome as fat ones.
You must never get fat."

Mrs. Thaw said that the effect of her story on Thaw was terrible. He sobbed and walked the floor, and stayed all night sitting in the room talking it over.

Mrs. Thaw said she told Thaw that she could not marry him, for White would always know and would laugh at him and talk. This was the second time Thaw proposed.

Mrs. Thaw said she became ill at school early in 1903 and that an operation was performed. Its nature was not gone into. The doctors did not tell her what was the matter. When she recovered Thaw took her and her mother to Paris.

Pearson Is Given Six Months.

Atlanta, Feb. 8.—John Pearson, the alleged member of a prominent British family, the one-time subject of King Edward VII, also a member of the royal army, and so forth, was sentenced to six months' imprisonment in jail by Judge Calhoun, before whom he was tried for vagrancy in the city court. He is the man, it will be remembered, who posed as a champion tennis and golf player and making this a ground for calls on several athletically-inclined Atlantans forthwith thounded them for sums aggregating from $1 to $5, only small amounts.

One to Twenty Years.

Hamilton, O., Feb. 8.—After being out all night the jury in the case of the state of Ohio against Robert Reynolds, indicted for highway robbery committed at Middletown last August, returned a verdict of guilty.
Harry Williams, who was jointly indicted with Reynolds, will have his hearing Wednesday. They are said to have held up Albert Ferris, of Middletown. The verdict carries with it a sentence of from one to twenty years.

To Be Hanged Friday.

Indianapolis, Ind., Feb. 8.—Geo.
Williams, negro, who murdered Patrolman Pettiford here several months ago while resisting arrest, will be executed at the state prison, Michigan
City, Friday, unless Governor Hanly interferes, as the supreme court refused him a new trial. His partner,
Jesse Coe, who murdered Patrolman Russell at the same time, has never been captured.

All Re-Enlisted.

El Paso, Tex., Feb. 8.—Twenty-seven members of the battalion of the Twenty-fifth Infantry (negro) stationed at Ft. Bliss, were honorably discharged upon the expiration of their terms, and immediately re-enlisted. The Twenty-fifth is under orders for the Philippines.

Viscount Goschen Dies Suddenly.

London, Feb. 8.—Right Hon. John Joachim Goschen (Viscount Goschen), died suddenly Thursday morning.
Viscount Goschen, who was born in 1831, was chancellor of the exchequer
in Lord Salisbury's second administration, and afterwards was first lord of the admiralty.

Charged with Murder.

etersburg, Ind., Feb. 8.—The trial of William Auberry, charged with murder in the first degree, has begun here. It is alleged that he wrecked
a freight train on the Southern Railroad last July. Three men lost their lives.

Sir Wm. Howard Russell Ill.

London, Feb. 8.—Sir William Howard Russell, the war correspondent
who described the battle of Bull Run for the London Times during the civil war in the United States, is critically ill.

Left Million to His Friend.

Pensacola, Fla., Feb. 8.—P. F.
Herwig, the New Orleans millionaire, who died a few days ago, left over a million dollars to his friend, Martin H. Sullivan, the millionaire lumberman of Pensacola.

BOY WAS ILL-USED BY BROTHER HE KILLED

Mother of Youthful Defendant
In Murder Trial

PLEADS JUSTIFICATION FOR HIM

From the Mther's Evidence, Considerable Sympathy Is Being Aroused.
Jury In Mrs. Sue Brooks' Case Unable to Agree.

Gainesville, Ga., Feb. 8.—The case of Harry Strickland, charged with killing his brother, Newt Strickland, has begun.

The state closed with the recess
of court at 5:30 p. m. Wednesday.
Evidence for the defense was taken
Thursday up morning at 9 o'clock.

From the mother's evidence as to the treatment of Harry by his brother Newt, whom he is charged with killing, at his grandfather's last Saturday, considerable sympathy is being aroused among the people. It is claimed that Newt's treatment of Harry was cruel, and that his body
now bears the signs of the treatment
he received.

Colonel W. A. Chantiss, solicitor
general, is prosecuting and Colonels
H. H. Dean, Howard Thompson,
F. M. Johnson and J. O. Adams volunteered their services for the defendant.

Jury Unable to Agree.

Gainesville, Ga., Feb. 8.—Although they have deliberated for many hours,
the jury in the Hall county court cannot reach a verdict in the murder case against Mrs. Sue Brooks.

The case was given to them about 3 o'clock Wednesday afternoon. At 5:30 o'clock they reported that they had not agreed and were not likely to agree. A mistrial is expected.

Mrs. Brooks is charged with being an accessory to the murder of Jack Collins, who at the time of his death
last November, was the court house janitor here.

It is claimed that Mrs. Brooks and her son, Foster Brooks, literally beat their victim to death. Foster Brooks, the son, was tried and convicted two weeks ago and was given a life sentence.

At the time of the killing, according to the charges, Collins was said to be looking for the place where his son is said to have bought blind tiger whisky. Collins went to the Brooks' home and while there the difficulty arose which resulted in his death.

Mayor Butt Dead.

Gainesville, Ga., Feb. 8.—Major Joseph H. Butt died at 3 o'clock on Wednesday afternoon of paralysis, in his eighty-sixth year. He was the oldest Mason and the oldest Odd Fellow in Georgia. During the civil war he was a major on the staff of General Bragg. For years he edited the Gainesville Eagle, and for several terms was a member of the Georgia house of representatives from the county of Hall. It is said that he was the original "Major Jones," of "Major Jones' Courtship," so well known to all southerners.

Stage of River at Natchez.

Natchez, Miss., Feb. 8.—The river
Thursday morning at 8 o'clock registered 47.8 feet, and continued to rise. The mail boats for the Bayou area and Vicksburg arrived in the morning with the usual crowd of refugees and live stock from the submerged districts. The condition of the levees are regarded as good, and every point is watched by experienced men while lumber and material and laborers are at convenient places for immediate work in case of a break.

Skull Too Thick for Bullet.

Frankfort, Ky., Feb. 8.—Sister Cook, a negro woman, was shot in the back of the head with a 38-caliber pistol ball, and it flattened itself against her skull, without even knocking her down or rendering her unconscious. The shot was fired by
Jno. Shelton at another negro, named
Ward, and it accidentally hit Sister
Cook.

BOLD ATTEMPT AT BURGLARY.

Four Negroes Suddenly Confront Lone
White Woman at Gadsden.

Gadsden, Ala., Feb. 8.—One of the boldest attempts at burglary in some time was discovered just as the thieves had entered the residence of Mrs. George E. Turrentine, on Turrentine avenue.

Mrs. Turrentine heard a noise in the house between 11 and 12 o'clock, and started to investigate, and was making her way through the hall to the front of the house, when the front door was suddenly opened and she was confronted by four negroes, two grown and two very small ones.

Mrs. Turrentine's cries for help frightened the negroes away. The police were telephoned for, and came out and made a careful investigation,
but were unable to get any clue.

There were indications that the two small negroes had entered the house from the rear, and had made their way to the front door and had opened it, just as Mrs. Turrentine appeared on the scene. There was no one in the house at the time except Mrs.
Turrentine and her sister, and it is thought that the negroes knew this fact.

The Turrentine home is in one of the thickly settled residence sections, and the attempt is one of the most daring ever committed.

May Settle Brunswick Strike.

Brunswick, Ga., Feb. 8.—It is believed that the longshoremen's strike
now in effect at Brunswick, will be of short duration. There seems to be willingness on the part of the strikers to talk about compromising their stand in the matter, and as there really existed but little local disaffection when the strike was ordered by the national officers, it is thought that an early settlement will be effected. Mayor Symons has ordered all saloons to close at 6 o'clock in the evening while the strike lasts.
A large number of business men doing business on the bay have been sworn in as extra policemen to assist in preserving order. No idlers will be permitted on the docks.

Barge Lost With All Hands.

New York, Feb. 8.—Tuesday morning during a heavy storm three coal-laden barges, which were being towed from Norfolk to Boston by the tug Walham, broke adrift from the tug off Barnegat, N. J. One of these barges was the Gibson, of Fall River, Mass., whose captain and crew were rescued and brought to port Wednesday by the steamer Chamblotte from Galveston. According to Captain Reed, of the Gibson, another of the barges foundered and all hands aboard were lost.

Worm Turned in Deadly Fashion.

New York, Feb. 8.—Enraged because he had been made a butt for the humor of fellow workmen, Gabriel Ferrara, an Italian, suddenly turned on a score of them, who were standing in line near a New York Central pay car at the Grand Central station,
and shot four men. Two of the men,
trainmen, named Jones and Myers,
were killed and the other two were dangerously hurt.

Two-Cent Fare for Missouri.

Jefferson City, Mo., Feb. 8.—The senate has amended the 2-cent railroad passenger rate bill to apply to all trunk lines and lines leased or owned by trunk lines, and to independent lines over 45 miles long, permitting
a rate of 4 cents per mile on independent lines under 45 miles in length. The bill will probably come up for passage Friday.

Two Hang for Assault.

Bowling Green, Ky., Feb. 8.—W.
R. Fletcher and Guy Lyon, two Lorgan county prisoners, who have been in jail here since May, 1905, charged with assault on Mrs. Gadden, a German woman, taken to Russellville, where they will be hanged on the 15th. The scaffold is arranged for the hanging of both at the same time.

Another Blow at Racing.

Nashville, Tenn., Feb. 8.—Another blow at horse racing was struck by the house when that body passed a bill, by a vote of 11 to 3, making it a felony to keep a place where betting on horse racing is allowed. This was a companion bill to the one already passed.

BY STATE LINES NATION IS BARRED

From Interfering With Labor
Women and Children.

BEVERIDGE BILL IS BLOCKED

By Report of House Judiciary Committee, which Says Child Labor Problem Is in Police Power of the States.

Washington, Feb. 8.—The judiciary committee of the house, through a report submitted by Chairman Jenkins, declares that congress has no power to regulate woman and child labor.

This decision fully sustains the position taken by Senator Bacon, of Georgia, on the floor of the senate, in reply to Senator Beveridge. Senator Bacon contended that regulations of woman and child labor was a matter that came entirely within the province of the states, and that the government could not assume jurisdiction under the commerce clause of the constitution.

The report of Chairman Jenkins was in response to a resolution of congress directing the judiciary committee to investigate as to the authority of congress to regulate such employment.

The committee report, declaring that this authority is one within the police power of the state, calls attention to how far modern ideas on legislation have advanced, from those held by the framers of the constitution. The decision of the judiciary committee confines the power of congress within the limit of investigating conditions, ascertaining the facts,
and making a report on this subject
of woman and child labor.

This puts a very effectual damper
upon the bill of Senator Beveridge, which seeks to have the government forbid the transportation in interstate commerce of articles made in a mill or factory where child labor is employed.

The committee is of the opinion
that "congress has no jurisdiction over the subject of the women and child labor, and has no authority to suppress any causes of such labor, or ameliorate conditions surrounding the employment of such laborers."

In concluding its report the house committee says: "The national government is too weak to undertake the exercise of police powers of the state.
In a short time this great nation would be worse than a ship in mid-ocean in a great storm without a rudder or compass. The division of power was wise and beneficial. Time, study and experience approve it, and we should not attempt in an unconstitutional way the destruction of the substructure of our government. If, then, these two great powers of police and commerce are separate and independent, the power of the state sovereign, where is the authority for saying that congress can invade and impair that power entire and independent of the state. The right and power of the state and nation must be respected and upheld."

Colonel Livingston was assured that there would be no confusion growing out of the investigation into the cotton exchanges of the country
by two departments of the government. In fact, the postoffice department and the department of commerce and labor will co-operate with each other, so Colonel Livingston was informed by Mr. Gordon, of the postoffice department, and Mr. Garfield, the commissioner of corporations.

Farmer Is Drowned.

Charlotte, N. C., Feb. 8.—A. B.
Mills, a prominent farmer of Burville township, near Wadesboro, N.
C., was drowned in Lane's creek.
Up to this time his body has not been recovered, although every effort is being made.

Shot By Drunken Sailor.

Philadelphia, Feb. 8.—Chief Master of Arms Douglass, of the United States cruiser Tennessee, now at the League Island navy yard, was shot and probably fatally wounded by Jas.
Burke, an intoxicated sailor.

NEWS OF CITY AND COUNTY CONDENSED

L. R. Jones of Rochelle, one of the valued employees of the roadmaster's department of the Atlantic Coast Line, was in the city yesterday. He left on the noon train for Hagar, where he is engaged for the present.

Prof. and Mrs. J. R. C. Brown of Virginia arrived in the city yesterday to be present at the coming session of the National Bible Conference and Christian Workers' Institute, of which he is one of the participants. Friends are delighted to greet them again.

Contractor Beeman has returned from Macon, Ga., where he went a few days ago on business. Contractor Beeman, who is constructing the sewerage system for this city, states that he has been greatly delayed for the past few weeks, owing to the failure of piping to arrive, and it was for conference with the proper railroad authorities that he went to Macon, from which place the same is supplied.

R. M. Chamberlain, the clever, good-natured tucker of Tacoma, who always has a smile for everything and everybody, was in the city yesterday and favored The Sun with a friendly call. Mr. Chamberlain states that he has four acres of young beans just up, and felt a little uneasy on account of the cold. He had a fine success of cabbage last year, the yield being large, the variety excellent and the prices good.

M. B. Saunders, senior member of the firm of Saunders & Earle, is minus a good axe as the result of sending a negro to his home a day or two ago to cut some wood. Mr. Saunders made a contract with the man to cut up a cord of wood. The negro went to the house, was furnished an axe, and after a few moments disappeared with the same. Mr. Saunders does not know the man's name, but describes him as being tall, and wearing a black sateen shirt.

John A. Darwin, general manager of the Mutual Life Fraternal Association of Georgia, with headquarters in Athens, Ga., has been here for the past two or three days conferring with T. B. Ellis, Sr., secretary and treasurer of the Alachua division, in the matter of business connected with the company. This company is one of the strongest and most reliable of its kind in the country. Mr. Ellis states that he has paid out benefits to estates of policy-holders since the company has been doing business here an aggregate of $9,450.

Ready for Immigration Convention. Macon, Ga., Feb. 8.—President Emmett Small, of Macon chamber of commerce, has named a committee of well known business men to confer with the mayor and city council and with President John A. Betjeman of the state immigration society regarding the entertainment that is to be accorded the officers of the society during the convention in Macon, on Feb. 19th.

Investigation for Furniture Co. Chicago, Feb. 7.—The Tribune says federal investigation of the American school furniture company re-organized nearly a year ago as the American seating company, is to be undertaken by the grand jury now in session in Chicago. Fully 100 witnesses have been summoned from all parts of the United States.

Alarmed at Recent Outrages. Madrid, Feb. 7.—Alarmed by the recent bomb outrages that has occurred here, many wealthy citizens have left the city. The anarchists are still active and have made threats that they will continue their work. The abolition of jury trials has been extended to include the province of Caronia.

Murderer Adjudged Insane. Augusta, Ga., Feb. 7.—John Clark, the young negro, who last October shot and killed three members of his race in a single night, has been adjudged insane in the superior court.

Sisters Burned. Marshalltown, Ohio, Feb. 8.—The two little daughters of Adolph Cagason, of Dike, 35 miles northwest of here, were burned to death. The parents had left the children alone.

Babe Half Consumed. Richmond, Ind., Feb. 8.—The two little daughters of Adolph Cagason, of Dike, 35 miles northwest of here, were burned to death. The parents had left the children alone.

Bullet Followed Hot Words. Cleveland, O., Feb. 8.—Robert Butler, a structural iron worker, from Cleveland, was shot and killed at the harbor in a battle between union and nonunion men.

Will Against Will.
A certain poor professor of physics is so great a misanthrope that he deliberately announces his lectures for the days when he has reason to think that his students will least want to attend. He commanded their presence on an election day once and drove them nearly wild by delivering a tedious essay on will power.

"If he wills it, a man may accomplish anything," he droned. "Let him make up his mind not to die, and he will live in spite of disease; let him decide that life is not worth living, and he will drop peacefully out of it. I challenge any student to cite an instance in which the power of the will has not triumphed over everything."

Up shot the reprobate of the class, a youth beloved by all his companions for his daring humor.

"Sir, I accept your challenge. You are wrong," he said.

"Pray mention an example," retorted the professor dryly.

"With pleasure, sir. An hour ago I will that this lecture should be brought to a speedy conclusion. I've will'd the same thing sixty times since, but up to now it hasn't come off."

"Nor will it," said the professor, "for I have not only will'd that this lecture should last another hour, but am perfectly willing that it should do so." And it did.

A Miss and a Find.
It was the habit of the Rev. James Spurgeon, grandfather of the great preacher of that name, to pray each evening under a certain oak tree in a secluded wood in Honeywood park. One night he dreamed, the story goes, that Satan appeared and threatened to tear him in pieces if he followed his accustomed route to the tree. There was another path by which he might go in safety. Remembering his dream, Spurgeon felt sorely tempted the next night to take the route in which Satan was not. But this would be to capitulate. Trembling in every limb, he made his way by the path in which the danger lay. He reached his goal in safety and in prayer and song returned thanks for delivery from peril. When his prayer had ended he rose to return. In his path lay a piece of solid gold "as large as a curtain ring." All inquiry failing to discover an owner, he retained it and when he married had his wife's wedding ring made from his curious find.

THE QUESTION OF LIFE.

Man's Progress and the Books of the Eighteenth Century.

In what mankind called "progress" the world was led by illusion, advanced by lies. Everybody hated work, which was the only health. Even the preacher spoke dolefully of "the curse of Adam." Everybody wanted to be rich, which meant unhappiness; everybody wanted to be idle, which meant death. Change was regarded as progress, and to find one different from oneself was to find one worse than oneself. And with all these I sympathized, knowing them to be wrong.

I had listened to moralists and before all was done discerned that a question of morals was a question of attitudes, and vice related to the equator. Cruelty was a creature of the thermometer; the tropics tortured what the arctics nursed. Happiness was born of contrast when it wasn't born of temperament, and Third avenue laughed oftener than Fifth. One man committed suicide, another gave a feast. Each was worth $20,000. The suicide had been a millionaire, the feast giver a pauper. I considered merchants and gamblers. There was but one difference—when the merchant's resources ended his credit ended; when the gambler's resources ended his credit began. When the gambler was down his fellow gamblers helped him; when the merchant was down his fellow merchants fell upon him and tore him like wolves.

Progress? A wise man proved it by pointing to a railroad and asking me to remember stagecoaches. I asked why it was better to travel 900 miles in a day than to travel ninety. He said one could reach Chicago in a day and night. I replied that one couldn't reach Calcutta in a day and night. He said that medicine and surgery had advanced; that we now saved lives we used to lose. I asked why it was important to save lives that must one day die; also I pointed out that we saved weaklings to wed weaklings and produce weaklings, which was progressing backward. He grew angry and asked if I favored death. I grew angry and asked if he favored birth; also I wanted to hear whether or no he believed in killing weeds.

Progress! I know nothing of medicine and railways and stagecoaches and saving lives, but I do know about books. And I see by my bookcases that the nineteenth century did not write so well nor in things beautiful think so well as did the eighteenth, with the promise all about me that the present century will write worse and think more heavily than either. We have better guns, clocks, plows, sewing machines, but they wrote better English and thought nobler thoughts.—Alfred Henry Lewis in Cosmopolitan.

Omen of the Wedding Ring.
At the close of a recent divorce case a woman spectator remarked:

"I knew they wouldn't pull together very long. The crease made by her wedding ring proved that. When she had been married six months I saw her take her ring off one day. The mark it had left was so faint you could hardly see it. You can always gauge the length of a marriage by the impression made by the wedding ring. In some cases the ring, even though entirely too large, sinks away into the finger. Such a mark as that indicates a marriage as lasting as eternity. Other women may wear a ring as tight as the skin, yet it will leave scarcely a streak on the flesh. In that case look out for an early termination of the contract."

The other women present said nothing, but all improved the first opportunity to slip their rings around and inspect the telltale mark. The faces of some were an expression of satisfaction, others of disappointment, but nobody knew the reason therefor.—New York Press.

Hunting for Trouble.

"I've lived in California 20 years, and am still hunting for trouble in the way of burns, sores, wounds, boils, cuts, sprains, or a case of piles that Bucklen's Arnica Salve won't quickly cure," writes Charles Walters of Alleghany, Sierra Co. No use hunting, Mr. Walters; it cures every case. Guaranteed at all drug stores. 25c.

Stage of River at Vicksburg.
Vicksburg, Miss., Feb. 6.—The stage of the river here Tuesday was about 48.3 feet. The only development in the levee situation has been some seepage seven miles north of Arkansas City, where a force of 50 men are engaged in making repairs. A break there is considered unlikely. All other levees are reported in good shape and no danger is now anticipated.

POSSE SHOTS CRAZED NEGRO.

He Resisted Arrest and Fled at His Pursuers.

Gordon, Ga., Feb. 8.—A strange negro, named Peter Arline, arrived at Gordon on the Central train at 12 o'clock Wednesday, drunk and apparently crazed.

He was cursing and disorderly, and some of the citizens of Gordon attempt to arrest him, but were met with resistance by the negro, who was found to be armed.

A posse was organized and went to arrest the negro, who fired several shots at his pursuers.

The shots were returned, one hitting the negro in the head and killing him instantly.

It was learned later that the negro was named Peter Arline, and was from near Irwin, the county seat of Wilkinson county. There is no indication of any further trouble with the other negroes of his race up to this time.

Urges Prompt Settlement.

Constantinople, Feb. 8.—Wearied with the delay so characteristic of the Turkish officialdom, the American ambassador, Mr. Leischmann, has suddenly raised into prominence the question of the recognition of the American schools by communicating directly with the sultan, urging the necessity of a prompt settlement of the question. The ministers thus ignored, have been stirred into unwonted activity, and the departments concerned, acting, it is said, under orders from the sultan, have entered into negotiations with the embassy. The question was settled in principle nearly three years ago, but the obstructiveness and dilatoriness on the part of the porte delayed the official ratification of the agreement.

Crazed Sheriff Runs Amuck.

New Orleans, Feb. 8.—A special from Winona, Miss., says that while attempting to save his chief from suicide, Deputy Sheriff Campbell Blinford was shot and probably mortally wounded by Sheriff T. J. Whitehead. The deputy wrenched the revolver away from Whitehead, getting the bullet just below the heart as he did so. Whitehead's daughter held her father while the wounded deputy ran from the house with the revolver. Sheriff Whitehead then attempted to cut his throat with his pocket knife, but was overpowered by other men. Ill-health had unbalanced his mind.

Special Announcement Regarding the National Pure Food and Drug Law.

We are pleased to announce that Foley's Honey and Tar for coughs, colds and lung troubles is not affected by the National Pure Food and Drug law as it contains no opiates or other harmful drugs, and we recommend it as a safe remedy for children and adults. J. W. McCollum & Co.

BALLARD'S SNOW LINIMENT

A Positive Cure For Rheumatism, Cuts, Old Sores, Sprains, Wounds, Stiff Joints, Corns, Bunions and all ills.

SHE KNOWS.

Mrs. C. H. Runyon, Stanberry, Mo. writes: I have used Snow Liniment and can't say enough for it, for Rheumatism and all pains. It is the most useful medicine to have in the house.

Three Sizes 25c, 50c, $1.00

Ballard Snow Liniment Co. ST. LOUIS, MO.

That our American forests abound in plants which possess the most valuable medicinal virtues is abundantly attested by scores of the most eminent medical writers and teachers. Even the untutored Indians had discovered the usefulness of many native plants before the advent of the white race. This information, imparted freely to the whites, led the latter to continue investigations until to-day we have a rich assortment of most valuable American medicinal roots.

Dr. Pierce believes that our American forests abound in most valuable medicinal roots for the cure of most obstinate and fatal diseases. If we would properly investigate them; and in confirmation of this conviction, he points with pride to the almost marvelous cures effected by his "Golden Medical Discovery," which has proven itself to be the most efficient stomach tonic, liver invigorator, heart tonic and regulator, and blood cleanser known to medical science. Dyspepsia, or indigestion, torpid liver, functional and even valvular and other affections of the heart yield to its curative action. The reason why it cures these and many other affections, is clearly shown in a little book of extracts from the standard medical works which is mailed free to any address by Dr. R. V. Pierce, of Buffalo, N. Y., to all sending request for the same.

Not less marvelous, in the unparalleled cures it is constantly making of woman's many peculiar affections, weaknesses and distressing derangements, is Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, as is amply attested by thousands of published testimonials contributed by grateful patients who have been cured by it of catarrhal pelvic drainage, painful periods, irregularities, prolapsus and other displacements caused by weakness, ulceration of uterus and kindred affections often after many other advertised medicines, and physicians had failed.

Both the above mentioned medicines are wholly made up from the glyceric extracts of native medicinal roots. The processes employed in their manufacture were original with Dr. Pierce, and they are carried on by skilled chemists and pharmacists with the aid of apparatus and appliances specially designed and built for this purpose. Both medicines are entirely free from alcohol and all other harmful habit-forming drugs. A full list of their ingredients is printed on each bottle-wrapper.

Lover Is Shot Dead.

Richmond, Ky., Feb. 8.—William Gay, of Jackson county, procured a license here to marry Miss Sophia Gabbard, aged 16 years, daughter of William Gabbard, a farmer, living near the Estill county line. As he went to the girl's home, where the ceremony was to have been performed, Gay was shot and instantly killed by James and Joseph Pevis, it is said, also from Jackson. The two men fled into the mountains and have not been apprehended. The cause of the killing is not given. The fugitives are brothers.

Even From the Mountains

Ballard's Snow Liniment is praised for the good it does. A sure cure for rheumatism and all pains. Wright W. Loving, Grand Junction, Colo., writes: "I used Ballard's Snow Liniment last winter for rheumatism, and can recommend it as the best liniment on the market. I thought at the time I was taken down with this trouble that it would be a week before I could get about, but on applying your liniment several times during the night, I was about in 48 hours and well in three days." Sold by W. M. Johnson.

Directors Must Show Cause.

Columbia, S. C., Feb. 8.—Governor Ansel has issued an order to the directors of the state dispensary to show cause why they should not be removed from office in accordance with the recent resolution of the general assembly. The order is returnable Friday noon. The three directors, J. M. Rawlinson, John Black and J. B. Wylie, are charged with overstocking the state dispensary.

Condition of Castro Alarmist.

New York, Feb. 7.—The Tribune says that a cable despatch was received in this city Tuesday from a high government official in Caracas, saying that the condition of President Castro, of Venezuela had assumed a more alarming phase and that he was expected to die within 24 hours. The message was dated Monday. Mr. Castro is at Maricao, near La Guayra, where he has been under the treatment of his physicians since December 27. His affection is known to be a serious nature and several times he had been reported close to death.

Rising From the Grave.

A prominent manufacturer, Wm. A. Ferriwell, of Lucama, N. C., relates a most remarkable experience. He says: "After taking less than three bottles of Electric Bitters, I feel like one rising from the grave. My trouble is Bright's disease, in the Diabetic stage. I fully believe Electric Bitters will cure me permanently, for it has already stopped the liver and bladder complications which have troubled me for years." Guaranteed at all druggists. Price only 50c.

Secrecy Necessarily Observed.

Tokio, Feb. 7.—Afternoon—Secrecy is necessarily observed in regard to all matters under consideration for the privy council, but in order to clear up any doubt or misapprehension at this critical time the Associated Press is in a position to state that the subject of deliberation at the meeting of the council on Tuesday last was the amended Imperial house law.

Brave Fight of Young Lady.

Macon, Ga., Feb. 8.—Miss Maggie Carey fought a negro boy purse snatcher bravely on First street, as she and her sister were going home, and as a result she still has her purse. The wrestle was a hard one, and gave her an injured hand. She tried to hold the negro until an officer could be called. He escaped.

NOTICE.

In the Circuit Court, Eighth Judicial Circuit of Florida, in and for Alachua County, in Chancery Siding—James R. Smith vs. Trenton Phosphate Company, a Corporation—Petition to re-establish a Lost Deed.

The Trenton Phosphate Company and to all whom it may concern: Take notice that on the 3rd day of January, A. D. 1907, a petition was filed by James R. Smith in the Circuit Court of Alachua County, State of Florida, in Chancery, to re-establish a lost deed, executed September, A. D. 1896, by the Trenton Phosphate Company conveying to James R. Smith the following described lands situate in the county of Alachua and State of Florida, to-wit: Nw 1-4 & W 1-2 of Sw 1-4 & Ne 1-4 of Sw 1-4 of Section 9, Township 10 South, Range 15 East.

Now unless you appear on the 4th day of March, 1907, in said court and do as hereafter required by law, and show cause against said petition, the same shall be taken as confessed and said lost deed re-established by a decree of said court, and you will be forever estopped from disputing the same.

Dated this 25th day of January, A. D. 1907.
THOS. V. PORTER,
Executor of Last Will and Testament of Robert H. Porter, Deceased.

UNPROFITABLE FEEDING

Intelligent stock raisers know that a certain amount of feed is necessary to keep an animal alive. They might feed that amount as long as it lives, and it would never gain a pound.

There is no profit in that kind of feeding. The kind that pays is the kind that builds flesh rapidly. If it takes twenty pounds of food each day to keep a sheep alive, twenty-five pounds a day will make it gain flesh. It's the extra five that brings the profit. The first five pounds amounts to nothing, nor does the second or third or fourth five pounds.

It's the same way with advertising. You have to do a certain amount to overcome the resistance of the public.

You have to do a certain amount of advertising to make them wake up to the fact that you are in business at all. You have to pay a certain amount to keep your advertising alive. What you pay above that amount brings profit.

Some advertisers fail because they do not use enough space. They use barely enough or sometimes not quite enough to make the advertising self-sustaining. A little bit more would make it profitable. It is better to advertise a little too much than not quite enough.—Charles Austin Bates.

Some of our advertisers could enlarge their space with profit.

CASES SET FOR FEBRUARY.

Criminal Court Will Hold Special Session for Trial.
Ga., Feb. 8.—John August, charged with the criminal branch of the superior court will be held, beginning Feb. 10, by Judge Roan, for the purpose of trying "bucket-shop" cases.

While a few other cases may be tried, the special session is called mainly to dispose of the cases against managers and employees of the board of trade, the Commercial Exchange of trade, the brokerage office of C. N. Anderson, who were indicted by the grand jury some time ago on the charge of violating the Boykin anti-bucketshop bill, and who are now on bond awaiting the trial of their cases.

These cases are possibly the first in the state brought for a violation of the Boykin bill, which only went into effect the 1st of January. Only two indictments were returned by the grand jury, one being against four persons and the other against six, but there will be a large number of witnesses to be examined and the cases will be bitterly fought on both sides and the trial of the two cases will take several days.

Voice Ruined by Accident.

New York, Feb. 8.—To Miss Emma A. Dambmann, a singer, was awarded a verdict of $10,000 by a supreme court jury before Judge Goff against the Metropolitan Street Railway company. This was the second trial of the suit, the plaintiff having obtained a verdict on the first trial of $13,800, which was appealed. Miss Dambmann had been a soloist in the Yonkers Baptist church, where, she says, she had received $2,400 a year. She testified that on November 24, 1899, she was thrown from a car by a sudden lurch at Forty-second street, near the Grand Central station, while attempting to alight. She says her voice was ruined by the accident. She sued for $10,000.

Men Past Sixty in Danger.

More than half mankind over sixty years of age suffer from kidney and bladder disorders, usually enlargement of prostate gland. This is both painful and dangerous, and Foley's Kidney Cure should be taken at the first sign of danger, as it corrects irregularities and has cured many old men of this disease. Mr. Rodney Runnett, Rock Port, Mo., writes: "I suffered with enlarged prostate gland and kidney trouble for years and after taking two bottles of Foley's Kidney Cure I feel better than I have for twenty years, although I am now 91 years old." J. W. McCollum & Co.

Rector Twamley Is Found.

Annapolis, Md., Feb. 8.—A telegram was received here Wednesday from Norfolk, Va., announcing that Rev. W. T. Twamley, assistant rector of St. Agnes Protestant Episcopal church, Annapolis, who had been missing since Sunday, was in that city. Nothing has been heard from Mr. Twamley personally, and speculation as to his intentions and the cause leading to his disappearance from Annapolis on Sunday morning is rife.

Wife Skinned with Another Man.

Marion, O., Feb. 8.—Two months after Benjamin W. Green, a Marion county farmer, was married his wife left him. Shortly afterward she became seriously ill with typhoid fever, but Green took her to his home, and by his care and attention saved her life. As soon as she was able to get out of bed, she ran away with another man. Green told this story in court, and was granted a divorce.

Diamonds Advance in Price.

New York, Feb. 8.—A general advance of 5 per cent in the price of diamonds was announced Wednesday in cable messages received by importers who buy the De Beers stones in the rough from the London selling syndicate. Diamonds are now selling at the mine for three times the price which prevailed in 1889.

Protest So-Called Burkett Bill.

Helena, Mont., Feb. 8.—At a meeting of the Montana stock men's association in this city resolutions were adopted protesting against the so-called Burkett bill now pending in congress which has for its object the granting of the public range privileges by the permit system.

PECULIARITIES OF WATER.

Its Expansion, Contraction and Slow Change of Temperature.

Water is such a common substance that we usually think but little about it. In a pure state it consists of two gases, oxygen and hydrogen, chemically combined. The volume of the hydrogen is twice that of the oxygen, but the oxygen even then is eight times as heavy as the hydrogen. Practically we never obtain pure water. As it falls from the clouds it washes the impurities from the air, and as it sinks into the earth it dissolves many substances. Even distilled water is rarely pure and cannot be kept any length of time.

It is a common observation that water will freeze into ice and that the ice will float on the surface of the water with about one-tenth of its volume above the surface. This is caused by the expansion of the water, which begins a few degrees above the freezing point and increases rapidly as the water solidifies. If water behaved as most substances which contract and hence occupy less space when they are in a solid condition than they occupy as a liquid, our ponds, rivers and lakes would soon disappear. The first layer of ice that formed would break away from the shore by its own weight and sink to the bottom. This layer would be followed by others as the water froze until the entire body of water became a body of ice.

Since our heat comes from the sun and water does not readily conduct heat downward, it is easy to imagine what the result would be. During the hot summer days a layer of ice might melt, but the ice beneath would not be warmed and would keep the temperature of the melted ice so low that a slight change of temperature would cause it to freeze again, thus giving us solid bodies of water that would never thaw. Drainage, navigation, swimming, fishing and all other water sports would be absolutely impossible.

Another peculiarity about water is that it requires more heat to raise the temperature of a given weight of water one degree than it does for any other known substance. The same amount of heat applied to equal weights of water and copper will raise the temperature of the copper about eleven times as much as it will in the case of the water. While this means that it takes more heat to warm the water we use, it is otherwise to our advantage. If water changed its temperature as readily as copper, iron or mercury it would be impossible to go out of doors after a rain if the sun were shining, since we would be suffocated by the steam. Fires could not be extinguished by water, since the water would in many cases be turned into steam before it could reach the fire and thus escape. Under present conditions it would require a large amount of heat to raise the temperature of water from the freezing point to the boiling point and nearly 54 times as much more to change the water into steam. In this way the water is kept in a liquid condition for a considerable time even under unfavorable conditions.—New York Press.

Holding Him Off.

"The head of the firm," said the superintendent, "insists upon our employing his son in this department, and it's as much as we can do to keep him idle."

"What you mean is, 'let him go'?"
"No, I don't. If we kept him busy it would keep three or four other men busy correcting his mistakes."—Philadelphia Press.

Why He Quit.

"For the drunkard and the glutton shall come to poverty," "I figured out years ago," said a prosperous farmer, "that with very moderate drinking I'd drink an acre of good land every year. So I quit."—Central Christian Advocate.

Neighbors Got Fooled.

"I was literally coughing myself to death, and had become too weak to leave my bed, and neighbors predicted that I would never leave it alone; but they got fooled, for thanks be to God, I was induced to try Dr. King's New Discovery. It took just four one-dollar bottles to completely cure the cough and restore me to good sound health," writes Mrs. Eva Unsapfer of Grovertown, Stark Co., Ind. This King of cough and cold cures, and healer of throat and lungs, is guaranteed at all druggists'. 50c and $1.00. Trial bottle free.

THE HUMAN THROAT.

It Has a Sort of Little Brain That Controls Its Actions.

Did you know that the throat has a brain of its own? Few people are aware of it, but it's a fact. There is a small ganglia which exercises direct control of the muscles of the throat and acts as its brain. Of course it is subservient to the genuine brain, but at the same time does a good deal of independent thinking for itself. It is very timid and suspicious of any strange objects that come near the throat.

For this reason it is very difficult for a physician to operate on the throat. Before anything can be done in this direction it is necessary for the operator to gain the confidence of the little brain that dominates it. It frequently takes weeks before this confidence can be secured, and until it is secured it is impossible to perform an operation.

Woe to the man who attempts rough treatment to the throat before gaining the little brain's confidence. His operations will be resented with violent paroxysms, first of the throat, then of the diaphragm, and, if the operator still persists, the patient will be thrown into convulsions. Still more curious is the fact that this little brain has a memory, and if once frightened in this way it is almost impossible to ever gain its confidence, no matter how gentle the operator may be.

Historical Accuracy.

Perish the thought that the novelist or playwright should be tied down to historical accuracy! Lady Dorothy Neville quotes an amusing correspondence between Bulwer Lytton and her brother:

My Dear Walpole—Here I am at Bath—bored to death. I am thinking of writing a play about your great ancestor, Sir Robert. Had he not a sister Lucy, and did she not marry a Jacobite?

My brother promptly replied:

My Dear Lytton—I care little for my family and still less for Sir Robert, but I know that he never had a sister Lucy, so she could not have married a Jacobite.

However, this mattered little to Lord Lytton, for his answer ran:

My Dear Walpole—You are too late! Sir Robert had a sister Lucy, and she did marry a Jacobite.

So, in defiance of history, the play "Walpole" came to be written.

Don't Put Off

Until tomorrow what you can do today. If you are suffering from a torpid liver, or constipation, don't wait until tomorrow to get help. Buy a bottle of Herbine and get that liver working right. Promptness about health saves many sick spells. Mrs. Ida Gresham, Point, Texas, writes: "I used Herbine in my family for six years, and find it does all it claims to do." Sold by W. M. Johnson.

Animals That Weep.

Travelers through the Syrian desert have seen horses weep from thirst, a mule has been seen to cry from the pangs of an injured foot, and camels, it is said, shed tears in streams. A cow sold by its mistress who had tended it from calfhood wept pitifully. A young soko ape used to cry from vexation if Livingstone didn't nurse it in his arms when it asked him to. Wounded apes have been crying, and apes have wept over their young ones slain by hunters. A chimpanzee trained to carry water jugs broke one and fell weeping, which proved sorrow, though it wouldn't mend the jug. Rats, discovering their young drowned, have been moved to tears of grief. A giraffe which a huntsman's rifle had injured began to cry when approached. Sea lions often weep over the loss of their young. Gordon Cumming observed tears trickling down the face of a dying elephant. And even an orang outang when deprived of its mother was so vexed that it took to weeping. There is little doubt, therefore, that animals do cry from grief or weep from pain or annoyance.—Harper's Weekly.

For Biliousness and Sick Headache

Take Orino Laxative Fruit Syrup. It sweetens the stomach, aids digestion and acts as a gentle stimulant on the liver and bowels without irritating these organs. Orino Laxative Fruit Syrup cures biliousness and habitual constipation. Does not nauseate or gripe and is mild and pleasant to take. Remember the name Orino and refuse to accept any substitute. J. W. McCollum & Co.

POWER OF CHARTRES.

No Other Church Perhaps So Entirely a House of Prayer.

I know no other church so entirely a house of prayer as the Chartres cathedral. Everybody who goes to it will tell you the same thing. "Chartres has still the gift of a unique power of impressing," Pater says, stirred by the aesthetic value of religion in such a setting. "Nowhere does one pray so well as at Chartres," Huysmans says, feeling its power more intimately. It is not easy to explain just why this should be, any more than why out of an endless gallery of Madonnas, a rare canvas by Piero della Francesca or Bellini will catch the eye and haunt the memory. Piety would have been as poor an equipment for the builder of cathedrals as for the painter of Madonnas. Nor is the fact that the architecture of Chartres belongs to the period of Gothic masterpieces a sufficient explanation. Paris and Bourges and Laon and Amiens show the same architectural perfection, they belong to the same period, but from none of them do you get the same impression of mysterious majesty, the same urgent call to prayer.

Other cathedrals are larger. Some have the same five aisles and as spacious an apse encircled by chapels. One at least, Le Mans, repeats the imposing arrangement of windows in the choir, and yet none can so awe you as Chartres does by the solemnity, the sublimity, of size. None can so overpower you by the height of nave and choir, by the endless vistas of aisles beyond aisles, chapels beyond chapels, columns beyond columns, by the dignity of an austere exterior, with spires pointing to heaven and buttresses that not even the wheel-like supports to their bold flight over the aisles can make less severe, less vigorous in mass. And the cathedral grows in solemnity and immensity the more you see it. Chance, it is true, has been kinder to Chartres than to most French cathedrals in sparing much of the detail without which the most perfect church seems bare and empty and cold.—Elizabeth Robbins Pennell in Century.

The Joy of the Everglades.

Our experience was that one meets delay in the Everglades, but not danger. The water is pure and sweet and food plentiful enough. Limpkins taste like young turkeys. All members of the heron family are likely to be found in the glades, and most other birds are fair food. Snails, which abound, are delicacies when called periwinkles. You would pay a dollar a portion in New York for the frogs that are yours for the catching in the glades. There are plenty of turtle, which possess all the good qualities, except cost, of the green turtle or the terrapin. A few fruits can be had for dessert—coconut plums, custard apples and pawpaws—while the leaves of the sweet bay make a fragrant beverage. Crossing the Everglades of Florida in a canoe is not an adventure; it is a picnic.—A. W. Dimock in Harper's.

When the Sea Was Fresh Water.

The ocean was once merely brackish and not salt, as it is now. This was when the earth was in its first youth and before there was any land showing at all or any animal life in the water. At this time the water was gradually cooling from its original state of steam, and the salts were slowly undergoing the change from gases into solids. Then came the appearance of land and later on rivers, which gradually washed down more and more salts, while at the bottom of the ocean itself chemical action was constantly adding more brine to the waters. At present it is estimated there are in the world's oceans 7,000,000 cubic miles of salt, and the most astonishing thing about it is that if all the salt could be taken out in a moment the level of the water would not drop one single inch.

Dryden's Ruse.

The story is told that Dryden, finishing his translation of "Virgil," sent it to Jacob Tonson for publication for a sum specified upon the manuscript. Tonson was desirous of obtaining the book, but determined to take advantage of Dryden's need of money. He therefore informed the poet that he could not pay the sum Dryden asked. In reply Dryden sent the following lines in description of the publisher:

With leering look, bull faced and freckled fair,
With two left legs, with Judas colored hair,
And frowzy pores that taint the ambient air.

When this was delivered to Tonson he asked if Dryden had said anything more. "Yes," replied the bearer, "he said to tell the dog that he who wrote these lines could write more like him." Tonson sent the money at once.
